Third Party Liability. Every person on Glendining & Co.'s premises at any time shall be deemed to be there at his or her risk. He or she shall have no claim against Glendining & Co. in respect of any accident which may occur or injury, damage or loss howsoever caused, save insofar as the injury, damage or loss shall be caused by the direct negligence of Glendining & Co. employees.

GENERAL CONDITIONS OF SALE

1. Definitions. In these Conditions Glendining & Co., who act only as auctioneers and agents for the vendor, are called "the Auctioneers", and the representative of Glendining & Co. conducting the auction is called "The Auctioneer".

2. General. Whilst Glendining & Co. make every effort to ensure the accuracy of their catalogue and the description of any lot:
   (a) Each lot as set out in the catalogue or as divided or combined with any other lot or lots is sold by the vendor with all faults, imperfections and errors of descriptions.
   (b) Glendining & Co. do not accept responsibility for the authenticity, attribution, genuineness, origin, authorship, date, age, period, condition or quality of any lot, unless they have been instructed in writing by the vendor so to certify, and in such case the Auctioneers do so as agents of the vendor and are not themselves responsible for such claims.
   (c) All statements, whether printed in the catalogue or made orally, as to any of the matters set out in (b) above are statements of opinion only and are not to be taken as being or implying any warranties or representations of fact by Glendining & Co., unless they have been instructed in writing by the vendor so to certify, and in such case the Auctioneers do so as agents of the vendor and are not themselves responsible for such claims.
   (d) Any claim under any Statute must be received in writing by the Auctioneer within ten days of the day of the sale.

3. The Auction.
   (a) The Auctioneer has absolute discretion to divide any lot, to combine any two or more lots or to withdraw any lot or lots from the sale, to refuse bids, regulate bidding or cancel the sale without in any case giving any reason or without previous notice. He may bid on behalf of the vendor for all goods which are being offered subject to reserve or at the Auctioneer's discretion.
   (b) The highest bidder shall be the buyer except in the case of a dispute. If during the auction the Auctioneer considers that a dispute has arisen, he has absolute discretion to settle it or to re-offer the lot. The Auctioneer may at his sole discretion determine the advance of bidding or refuse a bid.
   (c) Each lot is put up for sale subject to any reserve price placed by the vendor. Where there is no reserve price (but not otherwise) the seller has the right to bid either personally or by any one person (who may be the Auctioneer).
   (d) All conditions, notices, descriptions, statements and other matters in the catalogue and elsewhere concerning any lot are subject to any statements modifying or affecting the same made by the Auctioneer from the rostrum prior to any bid being accepted for the lot.

4. Rescission. Notwithstanding any other terms of these Conditions, if within fourteen days after the sale Glendining & Co. have received from the buyer of any lot notice in writing that in his view the lot is a deliberate forgery and within twenty-one days after such notification the buyer returns the same to Glendining & Co. in the same condition as at the time of sale and by producing evidence, the burden of proof to be upon the buyer, satisfies Glendining & Co. that considered in the light of the entry in the catalogue the lot is a deliberate forgery, then the sale of the lot will be rescinded and the purchase price of the same refunded. Both the buyer and the vendor agree to be bound by the decision of Glendining & Co.

5. Default. Glendining & Co. disclaim responsibility for default by either the buyer or the vendor because they act as agents for the vendor only and therefore do not pay out to the vendor until payment is received from the buyer. Instructions given by telephone are accepted at the sender's risk and must be confirmed in writing forthwith.

6. In the event of a sale by private treaty both the vendor and the buyer agree to be bound by the General and any Special Conditions of Sale.

VENDORS CONDITIONS

7. Instructions. As Glendining & Co. are auctioneers, all goods delivered to Glendining & Co.'s premises will be deemed to be delivered for sale by auction unless otherwise previously stated in writing and will be catalogued and sold at Glendining & Co.'s discretion and accepted by Glendining & Co. subject to all the Sale Conditions. By delivering the goods to Glendining & Co. for inclusion in their auction sales each vendor acknowledges that he or she has accepted and agreed to be bound by all these Conditions.

8. Collections. Glendining & Co. do not themselves usually undertake the collection of goods but will, if required in writing, instruct a contractor on the vendor's behalf in their capacity as agents. Glendining & Co. disclaim all responsibility for loss or damage to goods or for unauthorised removal of goods and for damage to premises caused by the contractor who should be insured for such risks. Unless instructions are received to the contrary the charge for these services will be deducted from the proceeds of sale.

9. Loss or Damage. Glendining & Co. disclaim all responsibility for loss or damage to goods or for unauthorised removal of goods unless caused by the direct negligence of their employees.

10. Storage. Glendining & Co. reserve the right to store or arrange for the storage of goods delivered to them for sale either on their own premises or elsewhere at their sole discretion. They exempt themselves from any liability for loss or damage to goods delivered to their sale rooms without sufficient sale instructions and reserve the right to make a minimum storage charge at 25p per lot per day for such goods (unless the loss or damage is caused by the negligence of their employees).

11. Right to Sell. Vendors will be charged for goods left on the premises if the vendor has been requested to remove them and if the goods are not removed within twenty-one days of such request Glendining & Co. reserve the right to sell the goods to defray costs and storage charges.

12. Insurance.
   (a) Unless otherwise instructed in writing all goods on Glendining & Co.'s premises and in their custody will be held insured against the risks of fire, theft following forcible entry and water damage (but not against accidental breakage or damage) for which insurance Glendining & Co. will charge a premium of £1 per £100 (minimum £1). The value of the goods so covered shall be the gross amount realised, or in the case of unsold lots the best bid, or in the case of goods withdrawn prior to a sale that which the specialised staff of Glendining & Co. shall in their absolute discretion estimate to be the auction value of such goods.

(b) Glendining & Co. shall not be responsible for damage to or the loss, theft or destruction of any goods not so insured upon the owner's written instructions.

(c) Glendining & Co. shall not be responsible for accidental breakage, loss or damage howsoever caused unless directly caused by negligence of their employees.

(d) In respect of any article delivered to Glendining & Co. if the vendor has in force a policy or policies of insurance in which the article is specifically mentioned as being insured, whether or not for an agreed sum or value, the vendor shall notify his insurers of and shall himself note Glendining & Co.'s interest as bailees in such policy or policies.

13. Reserves.

(a) All goods are put up for sale WITHOUT RESERVE at the Auctioneer's discretion unless written instructions as to reserves are received by one hour prior to the commencement of the sale.

(b) In the event of any reserve price not being reached at auction Glendining & Co. are empowered to sell after the auction, by private treaty, at not less than the reserve price, as long as the goods remain on Glendining & Co.'s premises. In the event of such a sale by private treaty the Conditions of Sale applicable to a buyer governing the auction will apply.

14. Indemnity. The vendor shall duly indemnify Glendining & Co. against any claims in connection with any goods sold by Glendining & Co. on the vendor's behalf.

15. Value Added Tax. A vendor who sends for sale by auction any chattel(s) which is an asset of his business must disclose to the Auctioneer whether or not he is a registered person for Value Added Tax purposes and, if so, his registered number and whether or not he intends to operate the special scheme covering works of art, etc. This information must be supplied to the Auctioneer on or prior to delivery of the goods.

16. The vendor authorises the Auctioneer to deduct commission and expenses at the stated rates from the hammer price and acknowledges the Auctioneer's right to retain any premium payable by the purchaser.

17. Rights to Photographs and Illustrations. The vendor gives Glendining & Co. full and absolute right to photograph and illustrate any lot placed in its hands for sale and to use such photographs and illustrations and any photographs provided by the vendor at any time at its absolute discretion (whether or not in connection with the auction).

BUYERS CONDITIONS

18. Inspection. Each buyer by making a bid for a lot acknowledges that he has satisfied himself fully before bidding by inspection or otherwise as to all the Sale Conditions the physical condition of and description of the lot including but not restricted to whether the lot is damaged or has been repaired or restored.

19. Property and Risk. Legal title will not pass to the buyer until the lot(s) has been paid for in full and the Auctioneers shall be entitled to a lien on any lot sold until the purchase price (as defined in 23 below) is paid in full but each lot is at the sole risk of the buyer from the fall of the hammer. Each buyer shall forthwith give his full names and permanent address and if called upon to do so by the Auctioneer shall forthwith pay to Glendining & Co. such proportion of the purchase price as the Auctioneer may require. If the buyer fails to do so, the lot may at the Auctioneer's sole discretion be put up again and re-sold.

20. Every bidder shall be deemed to act as principal unless there is in force a written acknowledgement by Glendining & Co. that he acts as agent on behalf of a named principal.

21. Removal of Goods.

(a) No purchase shall be claimed or removed until it has been paid for and the sale has been concluded. All purchases shall be paid for and removed at the buyer's risk and expense by the end of the second working day after the sale, failing which the Auctioneer shall not be responsible if the same are lost, stolen, damaged or destroyed, and all lots not so removed shall remain at the risk of the buyer and subject to a minimum warehousing charge of 25p per lot per day. If they are not paid for and removed within seven days of the sale the Auctioneer may re-sell them by auction or privately without notice to the buyer. Any liability which there may be on the part of the Auctioneer in respect of any loss shall be restricted to a maximum of the price paid by the buyer of the lot.

(b) In the event of any failure of the buyers to comply with any of the above conditions the damages recoverable by the seller or the Auctioneers from the defaulter shall include any loss arising on any re-sale of the lot, together with the charges and expenses in respect of both sales, and together with interest at 2% above Midland Bank PLC Base Rate upon the price of any lot which has not been paid for within 48 hours of the sale, and any money deposited in part payment shall be held by the Auctioneers on account of any liability of the defaulter to them or to the seller. The Auctioneers are unable to accept payment from successful bidders other than in cash or by the bidder's own cheque. Cheques drawn by third parties, whether in the Auctioneers' favour or requiring endorsement, cannot be accepted.

22. Value Added Tax. The Buyer will be liable to pay V.A.T. at the standard rate on the hammer price on those Lots indicated with a dagger (†) after the Lot number. This V.A.T. is refundable on proof of export by Overseas Buyers within 28 days of Sale.

23. Purchase Price. The purchaser shall pay the hammer price together with a premium of 10% of the hammer price. The premium is NOT negotiable and attracts V.A.T. at the standard rate and is payable by ALL purchasers. The vendor authorises the Auctioneer to deduct commission and expenses at the stated rates from the hammer price and acknowledges the Auctioneer's right to retain the premium payable by the purchaser.

Extract from research by Geoffrey Keay:

Born in the Parish of Longdon near the town of Tewkesbury, County of Worcester in 1788.

He enlisted as a Private at Croydon, Surrey on the 5th April, 1810, for a period of unlimited service.

His first service, until 4.4.1810, was with the Royal Waggon Train, in which he served one year, 243 days. On the 5th April, 1810, he transferred to the 14th Light Dragoons and remained with them—as a Private for 13 years, 37 days.

He was discharged on 16.8.1821 at Hounslow Barracks because of a musket ball wound to his neck and his inability to perform to service standards. It appears the musket ball remained in his neck.

His discharge certificate indicates he was 33, 5ft. 5¾in. tall, brown hair, hazel eyes, sallow complexion and by trade a labourer. His conduct while in the service is described as "Good". For a time he lived at Ledbury, Worcestershire, and on the 22nd September, 1857, he entered Chelsea Hospital as an in-pensioner as G.30386. He died there on the 14.2.1868.

Private Powell had an interesting and exciting life in the Army, first serving under Wellington in Spain where he fought against Napoleonic forces in these battles: Busaco, 27th September, 1810; Fuentes D'Onor, 5th May, 1811; Badajoz, 17th March and 6th April, 1812; Salamanca, 22nd July, 1812; Vittoria, 21st June, 1813; Nivelle, 10th November, 1813; Nive, 9th–13th December, 1813; Orthes, 27th February, 1814; Toulouse, 10th April, 1814.

Following the close of the Peninsula campaign, Private Powell returned to Barracks, in England but his rest was short lived. Sometine during November, 1814 his Regiment was transferred to North America.

The first battle in which the 14th Light Dragoons took part was at New Orleans against the Americans where two Squadrons, about 160 men, fought as a dismounted unit. This was on 8.1.1815. Major-General Sir Edward Pakenham, K.C.B., was killed and Major-General Gibbs and Keane dangerously wounded. Command of the troops then devolved upon Major-General Lambert who, in his dispatch to Earl Bathhurst, dated off Chandeleur Island 28th January, 1815 states: " The conduct of the two squadrons of 14th Light Dragoons latterly commended by Lt. Col. Baker and previously by Major Milles, has been the admiration of everyone, by the cheerfulness with which they have performed all descriptions of service".

P.S. "I regret to have to report that during the night of the 25th in very bad weather, a boat containing Lieutenant Brydges and Cornet Hammond with 37 men of the 14th Light Dragoons, unfortunately fell into the hands of the enemy off the mouth of the Rigolets. I have not been able to ascertain correctly the particular circumstances."

Actually, the troops were returning to the fleet, and this was the occasion on which the boat with two officers and 37 men of the Regiment fell into the hands of the enemy. The Regimental Digest of Service has the following entry:
1815 – January 19th and 21st. At the disembarkation near New Orleans to land at Cat Island, Lt. Brydges, Cornet Hammond, 1 troop-sergeant-major, 39 rank and file captured by enemy.

Private Powell was one of those captured and his service documents confirm he was a prisoner of war. However, in March, 1815 his records show he was re-united with the Regiment at Cork so he was a prisoner only a short time. In fact, the war was actually over (Treaty of Ghent ????) when he was captured but the news had not yet reached the troops.

A SELECTION OF MEDALS AWARDED TO CANADIANS, RANGING FROM THE MILITARY GENERAL SERVICE, 1793–1814, TO KOREA, 1950–1953

The last twenty years have witnessed an extraordinary growth in the collection of British Orders, Decorations and Medals, together with an increased interest in the stories of the men behind the medals. Undoubtedly, one of the primary reasons is the exceptional enthusiasm shown by collectors in Canada and the United States, whose purchases now account for a significant proportion of items which are sold through London auction houses.

We therefore feel it is appropriate to acknowledge the support of our North American customers by devoting a small section of this catalogue to medals awarded to Canadians. Canadians have played a valiant role, and always on a voluntary basis, in the defence of Britain in both the First and Second World Wars. And the medals for Fenian Raid, the Red River rebellion and the second Louis Riel rebellion, involving as they do the clash of different cultures and loyalties have an unusual social and historical interest.

At a later date we would like to be able to include a selection to Australian recipients, an equally enthusiastic brotherhood of collectors.

Sgt. Hammond was a platoon Sgt. with his platoon during the attack on the CERIANO RIDGE on 20.9.44.

During the advance his platoon Commander was killed and the advance was temporarily halted.

With complete disregard for his own safety Sgt. Hammond armed himself with a bren gun and against strong enemy opposition and direct small arms fire, firing the bren gun from the hip, he led his platoon on to the objective. After the objective had been captured the enemy began to infiltrate towards the platoon position. Sgt. Hammond advanced on the enemy, throwing Mills grenades, killing one German and putting the remainder to flight. When the position was shelled and mortared, Sgt. Hammond walked about in the open encouraging his men to hold firmly to the position. Sgt. Hammond gave a splendid example to the men under his command and his personal efforts ensured that the objective gained was firmly held. (Min. of Def. citation.)

They joined the 8th Brigade of the 3rd Division at La Clytte on the 27th. During the first ten days in March the Battalion was put in the line, Company by Company to be instructed in the 'art' of trench warfare. During May, 1915 the Battalion was on the Hooge front during the second Battle of Ypres.

Col. Ogilvie was sent home to try and use his experience to obtain recruits for the Regiment, but in November, 1915 he returned to take over command of the 4th Gordons from his successor, Lt. Col. A. Lyon. During his absence however the Battalion had suffered very severe casualties at Hooge on the night of the 25th September during which their casualties were: 2 Officers and 24 Other Ranks killed, 7 Officers and 148 ORs wounded and 6 Officers and 137 ORs missing. Colonel Ogilvie remained in command until March 1916 when he handed over to Lt. Col. P. S. Allen. After his departure from the 4th Battalion, he remained in France serving on the Staff as D.A.A. and Q.M.G. until the Armistice.

He was appointed a CMG (LG 23rd June, 1915) for his work with the 4th Gordons, and a CB (LG 1st January, 1919) for his later work on the Staff. He was also mentioned in dispatches at least four times (the Tiger & Sphinx says six) twice for work with the 4th Battalion (LG 22nd June, 1915 and 25th May 1917) and twice for his Staff work (LG 20th May, 1918 and 20th December, 1918).

Two books have been written about the 4th Gordons, the first is really a biography of Sgt. J. K. Forbes who was a member of the sniper section set up under the auspices of Col. Ogilvie, and who was killed in action at Hooge on the 25th September, 1915 in the action mentioned above. Being a biography of another person, it does not make any specific mention of Ogilvie that I can find, however the second work is a record of 'U' Company of the 4th Battalion, which was the company formed from members of Aberdeen University, and was also the company to which the above mentioned J. K. Forbes belonged. In this latter work the author says on page 7, "We had to cross a suspension bridge on the way back to camp, and here for devilment we ignored the order to break step. Our old Colonel [Ogilvie] just ahead of us, astride his mighty charger, experienced some nasty moments in consequence. As he now bumped the saddle hard, now balanced miraculously in mid air, we softly hummed the doggerel verse:-

'And when you're up, you're up; and when you're down, you're down;
But when you're only half-way up, you're neither up nor down.'

He survived the trying ordeal, albiet with considerable temporary loss of dignity, and revenged himself on us at battalion drill later in the day. This incident took place just prior to the outbreak of the First World War, when the Battalion was at annual camp near Dornoch. After the costly action at Hooge, mentioned above, 'U' Company was disbanded and this second account ended, prior to Colonel Ogilvie's return in November, 1916. In any event the account deals mainly with the activities of the Company and very seldom mentions persons in other companies or Headquarters.

At OOSTERBEEK on Monday 18th Sept. at about 0900 hrs Major Perrin-Brown's company was ordered to attack high ground astride the main road. He gained his objective against heavy opposition and held his ground despite intense mortar and MG fire. Later he was given a further objective and it was due to his personal leadership that it was secured. By this time the battalion was being attacked from the rear and there was no other company available. Major Perrin-Brown was again ordered to attack and secure a road junction, which necessitated street fighting. He led his company, now reduced to 22, with great dash and gained the road junction despite heavy opposition including armoured cars. In Arnhem the following morning he once more led the attack against tremendous odds—he personally took his men forward in a brilliant bayonet assault against entrenched enemy. At the end of this assault he had only eight men left and no other officers. Throughout this gruelling action lasting three days Major Perrin-Brown showed outstanding leadership and gallantry and was largely responsible for the advances made.

Citation for M.C.

On the 27/28, Nov., Lieut. Perrin-Brown was in command of a patrol which was detailed to try and capture a prisoner in the S'MANSOUR area (TUNISIA sheet 2 J6570). It was known that there was a sentry on the S'MANCOUR Bridge. Having reached the area Lieut. Perrin-Brown went forward to make a reconnaissance and while doing so a German patrol of Pl strength attacked the rear of his patrol which immediately scattered. Lieut. Perrin-Brown and his runner attacked the German patrol and inflicted on them severe casualties with sub-machine gun and grenades. The enemy casualties were known to be severe as they thought they were being fired upon by their own troops and bunched round their wounded which gave Lieut. Perrin-Brown the opportunity of throwing four grenades at them. By his coolness and courage Lieut. Perrin-Brown undoubtedly caused the enemy severe losses.

On two other occasions Lieut. Perrin-Brown has carried out long distance daylight reconnaissance patrols in and behind enemy lines and brought back valuable information as to the enemy dispositions.

During all the operations the coolness, courage and iniative shown by this officer has been of the highest order.

∴ TAMAAI.
MARCH 13TH, 1884.
At eight on the morning of March 13th., the troops formed in front of the zareba in two brigades. On the left was the 2nd. Brigade, commanded by General Davis, consisting of the 42nd., 65th., Marines, and Naval Brigade, with machine guns. Then came the Artillery, under Major Holley, and on the right the 1st Brigade, commanded by General Buller, comprising the 75th., 89th., and 60th. Rifles, with a battery of Artillery. Two squadrons of cavalry were sent to the front as skirmishers, and a brisk fire began on both sides; but the enemy advancing, the cavalry fell back, and the brigade opened a heavy fire of rifles and machine guns on the Arabs. The 42nd., who were in front, with a cheer charged the enemy at the double, but this movement leaving a gap between them and the 65th, the Arabs seeing their advantage, rushed like a torrent on the right side of the square, and for a time all was confusion.* The 65th. wavered, and fell back on the Marines, and the Naval Brigade surrounded by a mass of soldiers mixed in a wild mêlée with the foe, and were unable to use their guns and compelled to abandon then, with the loss of three officers and many seamen. But Buller's brigade advanced on the right rear in perfect order, by its terrible fire prevented the enemy from coming to close quarters,* and the 42nd. and the Marines fighting back to back checked further disaster, and the brigade was reformed. The two brigades now advanced abreast, the captured Gatlings were recovered, and turned by the seamen with great effect on a fresh body of Arabs, who charged out of a deep ravine in force, till their masses seemed to melt away under the tremendous fire poured into them. The ravine was carried, and a ridge beyond it; the bravest men of the enemy had fallen, and the rest lost heart and fled. After a brief halt General Graham pushed on to the wells of Tamaai, three miles from the battle field, and occupied the camp of Osman Digma. Next day, the camp, with the village or Tamaai, was destroyed, and the troops returned to Suakin.

The British casualties were five officers—Lieut. Montressor, H.M.S. "Carysfort"; Lieut. Almack, H.M.S. "Briton"; Lieut. H. Stewart, H.M.S. "Dryad"; Major Aiken, 42nd., and Capt. Ford. 65th. regiment; and one hundred and four men killed; and eight officers and one hundred and twenty men wounded and missing.

∵ Extracts from "The Boer War", T. Pakenham:

The advance of Long's twelve field-guns and six naval guns, which had so astounded Louis Botha half an hour earlier that morning, seen from the other side of the Tugela, indeed followed one of the great traditions of the British army: courage matched only by stupidity. To see those eighteen gun teams, riding out far ahead of the infantry battalions supposed to screen them, was to return to some scene from Balaclava.

A mile was extreme range for effective rifle fire. Botha's single pom-pom and the field-gun and howitzer hidden farther back on the ridge were noisy enough, but too few and too dispersed to be dangerous. the naval gun detachment suffered next to no casualties. By contrast, the two 15-pounder batteries found themselves in the centre of something to which military textbooks had yet to give a name: in this zone of fire, the air crackled like fat in a frying-pan.

Buller now road back a second time to the large donga. Out on the plain Long's twelve field-guns still lay abandoned, alone except for a circle of panic-stricken horses, tied by the traces to their dead team mates. By the donga, bullets drummed on the ground, making the drivers duck back under shelter. Buller stood out in the open and shouted, 'Now, my lads, this is your last chance to save the guns; will any of you volunteer to fetch them?'

Further volunteers rode out. It was hopeless. A final attempt was made by Captain H. L. Reed of the 7th Battery, the one sent to support Dundonald's mounted brigade. He hooked in three teams and they rode forward. Twelve of the horses were shot, one man killed, five wounded. No one reached the runs. Buller now refused to sanction any further rescue attempts. He then gave the order: retire. The men, who had been half-dazed by their experiences, leapt to their feet. 'We were off like March hares', said one of the gunners.

Part of the reason was Buller's behaviour the day after the battle. Methuen had raised a storm of protest by dressing down the Highland Brigade the day after Magersfontein:"There are three things I want you to remember; your Queen, your Country and your regiment."[72] Buller was as tactful in handling his troops as he was clumsy in handling 'Clan' Lansdowne and George White. He went to the survivors of the abandoned batteries, the 14th and the 66th, and personally thanked them for their gallantry.

∴ During the advance to OCHTRUP (MR.B6202) on 2 April 1945, the leading Armoured Car Troop was held up by two S.P. Guns. The Assault Troop was ordered up and the section of this troop in which Trooper Bennett was serving, advanced to the right of the road. Heavy mortar and shell fire came down on this Troop and the section also came under Spandau fire from a house about 100 yards away to the right. Trooper Bennett and another soldier, on their own initiative, ran across the open to this house and were under fire while doing so. The Troop with the remainder of Trooper Bennett's section was then forced to withdraw. After three hours had elapsed, Trooper Bennett and the other soldier rejoined their Troop bringing with them 16 prisoners.

Extract from "Welsh Spearhead, a history of 53rd Recce Regt."—P. M. Cauburn.

"The Squadron Leader then brought up two sections of the Assault Troop to attack the village school which seemed to be the enemy strong-point and was surrounded by four barbed-wire fences. They went in with great dash, Lieut. Chapelhow personally leading the attack, and succeeded in getting quite close until pinned down by well-directed fire from a number of Spandaus. They then had a ding-dong struggle, giving as good as they got. We brought the 3-inch mortars into action but the result of this could not be fully observed. After several hours fighting and from the reports coming in it was evident we had run into a hornets' nest as the village was quite strongly held. Also, the enemy had recovered from his shock and was becoming more aggressive and trying to cut the road behind us, which would, to say the least of it, leave us in a very sticky position. We had suffered a number of casualties, not serious but depleting our numbers, so the Squadron Leader wisely decided that as far as we were concerned, the position was deteriorating and it was far better to retire to the next village, hold that strongly, and push out patrols. This was carried out, though we were harried by heavy enemy fire coming over open ground. This was to some extent neutralised by good H.E. fire from the A/Tk Battery who covered us out of the position. During the action we had taken 30 prisoners whom we took back with us despite the difficulties."

Keith Maxwell, at the cutting out, under the batteries in Camaret Bay, near Brest, a position deemed almost impregnable, of La Chevrette corvette, of 20 long nine-pounders and 350 men, after an heroic conflict in which the enemy lost their Captain, 6 other officers, and 85 men killed, and 1 Lieutenant, 4 Midshipmen, and 57 men wounded; and the British, 1 Lieutenant R.M., 1 Midshipman, and 9 men slain,and 2 Lieutenants, 1 Master's Mate, 3 Midshipmen, and 51 men wounded. Mr. Boxer next accompanied Capt. Brisbane, in the TRENT 36, to the West Indies, and, after a three years' attachment with that officer to the GOLIATH 74, followed him, in July1805, as Master's Mate, into the ARETHUSA 38. On 29 June, 1803, while in the GOLIATH, he assisted at the taking of the 18-gun corvette La Mignonne, near the west end of St. Domingo. We subsequently find him serving in L'UNITE 38, Capt. Chas. Ogle, on the Mediterranean station—in the OCEAN 98, bearing the flag of Cadiz of Lord Collingwood—and, from 28 Sept. 1806, until confirmed, 8 Jan. 1807, as Acting-Lieutenant in the SOPHIE sloop, Capt. Wm. Mansell, and TIGRE 80, Capt. Benj. Hallowell. During the expedition to Egypt, in March, 1807, Lieut. Boxer commanded a detachment of seamen landed to co-operate with the army under Major-General Thos. Fraser; and, at night, on 31 Oct. 1809, he headed, with great credit to himself, a division of boats at the capture and destruction, in face of the most desperate opposition, occasioning the British a loss of 15 killed and 55 wounded, of the French store-ship Lamproie of 16 guns and 116 men, bombards Victoire and Grondeur, and armed xebec Normande, with a convoy of seven merchant vessels, defended by numerous strong batteries in the Bay of Rosas.† From the TIGRE he removed, with Capt. Hallowell, on the latter hoisting his flag as Rear-Admiral, to the MALTA of 84 guns, 28 Oct. 1811; and from that period he continued to be employed, under the same Officer, in the capacity of First-Lieutenant (except for about a month in the summer of 1813, when he assumed temporary charge of the VOLCANO bomb), until apppointed, 5 Oct. 1814, to the acting-command of the WIZARD brig, which he left shortly previous to the receipt of his second Admiralty commission, 1 March, 1815. Capt. Boxer—who had the direction of all the gun-boats under the orders of Rear-Admiral Hallowell at the siege of Tarragona in 1813—was next appointed, 6 Sept. 1822, to the SPARROWHAWK 18, on the Halifax station, whence he was superseded on advancement to his present rank, 23 June, 1823. He became an Inspecting-Commander in the Coast Guard in July, 1824; served, from 23 Feb. 1827, until July, 1830, as Flag-Captain at Halifax to Sir Chas. Ogle, in the HUSSAR 46; and, from 3 Aug. 1837, until Aug. 1841, commanded the PIQUE 36, on the North America, West India, and Mediterranean stations. For his services on the coast of Syria, in 1840—where, by the unceasing gallantry of his exertions, he proved of material assistance in the operations against Caiffa, Jaffa, and Tsour, and where, with Capt. Henry John Codrington, he so excellently superintended, prior to the bombardment of St. Jean d'Acre, the sounding and buoying-off of the channels leading to the batteries, as to enable the ships to go in without risk of getting ashore—Capt. Boxer was nominated, 18 Dec. in the same year, a C.B., and presented, in common with the other officers of his rank employed, with the Turkish gold medal. He was appointed, 24 August, 1843, Resident Agent for Transports and Harbour-Master at Quebec, where he still continues.

Capt. Boxer, whose wife died 25 Jan. 1826, has, with other issue, an eldest son, James Fuller, Master R.N., married to Matilda Mary, eldest daughter of T. Sturdee, Esq., of the Naval Yard at Portsmouth; and a third son, Edward, married in 1843, to Eleanor, daughter of the late Lieut.-Colonel Payne, Royal Artillery.

"John writes of this packet so . . . I will say nothing of him except that every day makes me love him better. We have constantly lived together, slept together and shared every comfort and danger since we landed in Holland and are not yet tired of it. (p. 82. 85. Regt. History)

He commanded one of the battalions of the Lusitanian Legion (7th Cacadores).

His dog Peter accompanied him in the Peninsular. "Mr. Peter my dog fell gloriously at Talavera. He had been found after straying from me by a soldier of the Regiment who had kept him for nearly two months and at his feet he was shot. The poor fellow told me the story almost with tears. He himself had his arm shot so badly as to be unfit for any purpose. I happened to say, speaking of Peter 'Poor fellow I wish to God his master had been there too'—He replied immediately. "Ah Sir! I wish you had I assure you we all pitied your Honour very much.' It was a most soldier like reply of a poor fellow pitying anyone who had not seen him (i.e. Peter) fall in such a glorious action". P.82.

. . . Eventually the day was saved by an advance of Cole's Fourth Division so long held in reserve – the Major General had a long distance to cover and the move was a dangerous one in the presence of Latour Manburgh's cavalry. He however boldly moved forward in line, his flanks carefully guarded by battalions in column. On the right a battalion of nine Light Infantry Companies and on the left a battalion of the loyal Lusitanian Legion commanded by Major Edward Hawkshaw of the Thirty First.

Cole's attack, thus ably planned and executed won the victory. The French cavalry charged again, but were stopped by the steady firing of a Portuguese Brigade; and after a desperate struggle in which the British Fusilier brigade lost half its strength the French infantry broke and was driven down the hill in confusion. The final and victorious charge of the brigade was led by Major Hawkshaw who at the last moment received a wound at close quarters from which he suffered to the end of his life. The Brigadier and all the other commanding officers in the Brigade had been killed or disabled previously.

∴ The German name of the recipient was changed in 1922 to enable him to receive the Order of Vitez only permitted to recipients with Hungarian names.

The report taken down at the military field station of Lamon, June 23rd, 1918 indicates that the Golden Bravery Medal [Goldene Tapkerkeitzmedaille] was awarded to Captain Adalbert Stoisich for heroism during the Battle of the Piave in the Italian theatre. According to the report on June 15th at the time of an Italian counter attack, which was supported by heavy artillery fire, Captain Stoisich, commanding a machine gun group of the 85th Imperial Infantry Regiment, threw himself at the enemy and used hand grenades until his support group arrived. Despite several wounds, and with only a few comrades to support him, he stopped several attacks of the enemy until his last bullet was spent and last hand grenade gone. He then used his bayonet and even threw rocks to hold the enemy back. The heroic actions of Captain Stoisich denied the Italians the encirclement they had intended at this section of front line. The most relevant portion of the original report reading:

"Als die vom schweren Artillerie und Minenwerfer-Feuer begleiten feindlichen Gegenstosse einsetzten, warf sich Hauptmann Stoisich mit wenigen, welcher die Verteidigung des linken Flügelabschnittes leitete, dem Feinde allein entgegen und hielt ihn mit Handgranaten solange auf, bis Unterstutzung einlangte und der Feind geworfen wurde. Obwohl aus zwolf Wunden blutend, hielt Hauptmann Stoisich mit wenigen Leuten wiederholten Ansturmen des Feindes selbst dann noch Stand, als nach Verbrauch der letzten Patrone under der letzten Hangranate, seinem Biespiele gemäss, blos mit dem Bajonette und Steinen gekampft wurd. Dieses heroische Ausharren des Hauptmann Stoisich ermoglichte es, dass der Italiener die von ihm beabsichtigte Umzungelüng nicht durchführen konnte."

We have little information relating to his subsequent career but he remained in the Hungarian army during the period of the regency under Admiral Horthy and was promoted to general in 1938. (No medals relate to Hungarian operations on the Eastern Front during the Second World War and presumably he was retired by this time.) During the wave of terror that followed the fall of Horthy and armistice with the Soviet Union we understand he was arrested (March 1946) and imprisoned for thirty months. Apparently he was not executed on account of his age. General Bela, who was born in 1885, died in 1974 at the age of eighty-nine.

GENERAL INFORMATION FOR BUYERS

All Lots in this Sale are subject to a BUYER'S PREMIUM of 10% which attracts V.A.T. at the Standard Rate (at present 15%) and is payable by ALL BUYERS

BIDS

We will be pleased to execute bids (in the name of Graham) on behalf of intending buyers, and no charge is made for this service. Lots will be purchased as cheaply as permitted by other bids and reserves. Bids must be submitted to Glendining & Co. at least one hour before the sale commences, and should be entered on the forms provided. Bids left by telephone will be accepted only on the condition that they are at the sender's risk, and must in any case be confirmed in writing.

Bids by telephone, telex or fax are accepted (but must be received at least one hour before sales commence), and should be confirmed in writing. Overseas customers are urged to use these facilities, but all communications must be headed GLENDININGS. However we regret that bids left on our Answerphone service cannot be accepted.

PAYMENT BY CHEQUE

Please note that cheques under £100 will be accepted with a Banker's Card. Cheques for the payment of purchases over this amount must be cleared through our bank before goods can be delivered.

PAYMENT BY OVERSEAS CUSTOMERS

Payment should be made in Sterling in the form of cash, cheques drawn on a U.K. clearing bank, or by means of a banker's draft or telegraphic or cable transfer directly into our bank account, quoting the original invoice number.

Unless prior arrangements have been made, and payment is made by any other means, then the customer will be liable for any bank or collection charges concerned, and any losses arising from the conversion of foreign currencies into sterling.

Glendining's Subscription Service 1988

Subscriptions to our catalogues run an annual basis from January each year. On average we issue some 20 coin catalogues, of which a minimum of four include Ancient coins, and a further four specialising in Orders, Decorations and Medals, for which separate subscription rates are offerd. Most catalogues contain some plates of illustrations. In the course of each year several of the catalogues are of more important collections, and usually two or more contain coins of the Ancient World.

We aim to post the catalogues to arrive some three weeks prior to the date of the sale. Lists of "Prices Realised" are issued after each sale and these are enclosed in a following catalogue, at no extra cost.

Subscriptions received after July 1st are for half the annual cost.

For the convenience of customers the subscriptions are priced for differing postal zones, and all overseas catalogues are sent by air mail.

Zone A = U.K. and Ireland; Zone B = Europe; Zone C = Rest of the World

Type of catalogue	Zone A	Zone B	Zone C
Ancient, British and Foreign Coins	£20	£30	£40 ($65)
Ancient Coins only (minimum 4 sales)	£10	£15	£20 ($30)
War Medals (minimum 4 sales)	£10	£15	£20 ($30)

Catalogue subscriptions can be paid by Cash, Cheque, Banker's standing order mandate, or by Credit Card (Mastercard and Visa only). Subscription forms will be sent on request – or if payment is by credit card, telephone orders are accepted.
